

BioProcessing Journal (BPJ) is a quarterly publication available in print and online. In consideration of BPJ agreeing to publish a manuscript (Work), the Author grants BPJ the copyright for the Work and the ability to publish, reproduce, distribute, display, and store the Work in all forms, formats, and media.

However, upon review, if BPJ decides not to publish this Work for any reason, the Author will be released from this agreement and ownership rights for the Work will be returned to the Author.

The Author warrants that the Work is original, does not contain libelous or otherwise unlawful language, and does not infringe on any existing copyright or the proprietary right of any person or entity. If the Work has been co-authored, the signing Author certifies that he or she has full authority to represent all of the Authors who are named by the Work.

If the above-referenced Work was written as part of the duties of a US Government employee, an assignment of the copyright cannot be made and the Author must sign the following certification. Do not complete this section if the work was prepared under a government contract or was co-authored by a non-US Government employee.

Certification as a Work of the US Government

This is to certify that ALL authors of the Work are, or were, bona fide officers or employees of the US Government at the time the Work was prepared, and that the Work is a "work for hire" that has been prepared as a part of official duties, and is therefore not subject to US copyright.
