
Copyright Transfer

In consideration of the Publisher's reviewing, editing, and accepting the material for publication identified below (the "Work"), and for other good and valuable consideration, and on behalf of all authors and the employer, the undersigned author grants, sells, transfers, assigns and otherwise conveys all rights, title and interest in and to the Work to the BioProcessing Journal, with the exclusive worldwide right to publish and sell the Work, under its own name and any other imprints or trade names, during the full term of copyright and all renewals thereof, and to copyright the Work in the BioProcessing Journal's name or any other name with exclusive worldwide authority to dispose of said rights in all languages.

Except for material in the public domain, or for which permission has been obtained from the copyright owner, the Author warrants that the Work is original, does not contain libelous or otherwise unlawful language, and does not infringe any copyright, or the personal or proprietary right of any person or entity. The Author certifies that each author has participated in the Work in a substantive way and is prepared to take public responsibility for the Work.

The Author reserves the right and license, at no cost, to utilize, copy, and distribute the Work for scholarly or educational purposes, provided that such material is not for profit, that a proper acknowledgment is given to the source, and that the Publisher has been notified in writing of said usage.

In the event that the Publisher decides not to publish the Work, the Author will be given written notification, and all rights in the Work granted hereunder will revert to the Author.

By signing and returning this document, the Author confirms his or her acceptance of the terms of this copyright transfer and the Author Guidelines, which are stated prior hereto and incorporated herein by reference. No manuscript will be processed until the Publisher has received this form, signed by the Author.

If the above-referenced Work was written as part of the duties of a US Government employee, an assignment of the copyright cannot be made and the Author must sign the following certification. Do not complete this section if the work was prepared under a government contract or was co-authored by a non-US Government employee.

CERTIFICATION AS A WORK OF THE US GOVERNMENT

This is to certify that ALL authors of the Work are, or were, bona fide officers or employees of the US Government at the time the Work was prepared, and that the Work is a "work for hire" that has been prepared as a part of official duties, and is therefore not subject to US copyright.
